The Department of Educational Psychology, University of Alberta, invites applications for a tenure-track position in the area of Measurement, Evaluation, and Cognition focusing on research and practice in classroom assessment. The appointment, which may begin as early as January 1, 2007 or on July 1, 2007, will be at the Assistant Professor level.

Teaching and administration responsibilities will include both the coordination and instruction of the undergraduate measurement sequence (i.e., Educational Psychology 303) as well as courses in assessment at the graduate level. Working in the Centre for Research in Applied Measurement and Evaluation (CRAME) within the Department of Educational Psychology, the successful candidate will also be expected to conduct research and supervise graduate students (for additional information, please see www.education.ualberta.ca/educ/psych/crame).

Candidates should have formal teacher training; an earned doctorate in educational measurement or a related field; and a record of, or potential for, scholarly contribution in the area of educational measurement.

Review of applications will begin October 20, 2006 and will continue until the position is filled. A letter of application, a curriculum vita, a statement of research interests, one published paper, if available, and names of three references should be sent to: Dr. Fern Snart, Dean of Education, 845 Education South, University of Alberta, Edmonton, AB, Canada, T6G 2G5

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. If suitable Canadian citizens or permanent residents cannot be found, other individuals will be considered. The University of Alberta hires on the basis of merit. We are committed to the principle of equity of employment. We welcome diversity and encourage applicants from all qualified men and women, including persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities, and Aboriginal persons.
